Mysuru Literary Fest begins

A poet should re-examine his/her dreams from time-to-time, says Poet and Short Story Writer Keki N. Daruwalla

Keki N. Daruwalla lighting the lamp to inaugurate Mysuru Literary Festival at Senate Bhavan in Manasagangothri this morning as Mysore Literary Association President Prof. K.C. Belliappa and others look on.

Mysuru, Oct.19 (RK&DM)- The Third Edition of Mysuru Literary Fest organised by Mysore Literary Association began with Poet and Short Story Writer Keki N. Daruwalla lighting the traditional lamp at Senate Bhavan in Manasagangothri here this morning.

Speaking on the occasion, Keki Daruwalla said that a writer is the absolute owner of his / her work or poetry and no one, be it a Mob, Police, a Judge or the Government can question about it. Noting that although poetry can be disruptive, it should not be only in one direction, he observed that diversification is key for a poem.

Maintaining that a poet does not have to move out of his / her dreams, he said that a poet should periodically re-examine his / her dreams. "A poet has to be in touch with reality also. A writer has a duty to fall on, which is to speak for all the marginalised and neglected sections of society as well for the tribal community," he pointed out.

Keki Daruwalla also read out a few lines from his famous poems 'Naishapur and Babylon', 'Iceberg at Abu Dhabi', 'Ishtar' etc.

Empathy for the elderly

The air in the land is abuzz with people in various circles and varied background bestowing their views on a plethora of problems at which the successive administrations seem to be taking pot-shots, rather than getting into the act of addressing them pro-actively. Even as the country's economy has tended to be sagging, particularly its slow-down in many key sectors such as manufacturing industries, infrastructure and exports in addition to a steeply rising unemployment rate, many issues concerning the land's elderly don't seem to have been bestowed the attention they deserve, both by the administration and the society. The demographic profile of the country is marked by not only a youth bulge (with nearly half the total headcount coming in 15 to 35 years bracket) but also a steadily rising number of elderly (projected to be 20 per cent by the end of next 30 years from the present nearly 10 per cent) on the wrong side of 60 years. Further, the number of very elderly (above 80 years) is also expected to rise to an extent that their total population outnumbers the headcount of many countries across the world many times over. Barring a small fraction of the fraternity of seniors who have the wherewithal to take care of themselves, the rest need to be cared for with empathy both by their kin and civilised society.

The scenario of joint families, particularly in urban space, in which the grandparents were respected, consulted and even cared for with unalloyed love by their progeny, has suffered a time-warp with every sign of worsening as days pass. The outlook to ensuring welfare of the elderly as a duty, on the part of their juniors in age, has taken a battering.

The point that the elderly have to keep a tight vigil, during the years preceding their graduation as senior citizens, on both physical fitness sufficient not to be incapacitated and economic health is well-taken. The proportion of the land's population who are eons away from that ideal cannot be missed even by visually challenged. According to State of Elderly in India Report, every second elderly person suffers abuse within family apart from being disrespected. The factors that have caused the present plight of the elderly spelt out by the cognoscenti who are far short of showing the way out of the grim situation which has gone out of hands for all parties — the community, civil society and Government.

Energies of the able-bodied in the land can be marshalled to reverse the yawning gap between the haves and have-nots. First and foremost act seems to be weaning the land's youth from the clutches of the rampaging vote-mongers. Next is to replicate the good work being done by many Good Samaritans in different parts of the country by skilling and building capacity for entrepreneurship changing job-seekers to job-givers with the elderly chipping in. Where there is a will, there is a way !

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

They say that as you grow older you tend to shrink and get smaller. I know I'm getting older because I seem to be shrinking and getting smaller and smaller day by day. And then the realisation dawns on me that it's not that I'm getting smaller and smaller but all the young people I come across are getting larger and larger. Our friends and our family members' children are bigger than their parents, the sons taller than their dads, and the daughters taller than their moms, and sometimes even taller than their dads as well. Almost everything we eat today, from veggies and fruits, to dairy products and processed food, contains various chemicals and other additives, which over time can effect hormonal and other bodily changes. This was not the case with earlier generations. All the food we ate was natural — we'd call it 'organic' now. One thing's for sure. With children increasingly growing bigger than their parents, grown-ups shouldn't be called grown-ups anymore. They should be called grown-downs. — Jug Suraiya in The Times of India

Go vegetarian or eat your pet animal

London: As part of social experiment in an extreme reality TV show 'Meat the Family,' four meat-eating families for three weeks they have to interact with the animal that they enjoy eating most and in the end they are forced to make a choice between going vegan or eating their pet.

The premise of Meat the Family is that the three participating families have to treat the animal that most frequently appears on their plates like a pet for three weeks, and then decided whether it goes to an animal sanctuary or into their bellies. Over the course of the show, four UK families will have to spend time with their pet, taking it for walks and playing with it, but also travel around their country to learn about animal welfare, farming and production, food processing, as well as the impact that eating animals has on the environment. At the end of three weeks, viewers will discover whether the families have bonded with their temporary pets enough to save their lives, or if their love or meat is just too strong.

'eRosary' that brings religion and tech together

Vatican: Vatican has brought religion and technology together in the form of 'Click to Pray eRosary,' a smart gadget shaped like a regular rosary and designed to educate young, technology-focused youths how to pray the rosary.

The smart eRosary can be worn as a bracelet and is activated by making the sign of the cross. It comes with a companion smartphone app which synchronizes with the gadget and allows access to an audio guide, exclusive images, personalized content, and also tracks the user's progress. According to the Vatican website, the eRosary is designed 'to help young people pray the Rosary for peace and to contemplate the Gospel.'

Designed by GadgeTek Inc. (GTI) and produced by Acer, the eRosary is part of "Click to Pray", the official prayer app of the Pope's Worldwide Prayer Network, which connects thousands of people in prayer every day.

Where does an infant's microbiome come from?

As an infant is born, it gets its first dose of microbes from the wall of the mother's birth canal. This is where the human microbiome begins. If a child is delivered by C- section, its microbiome may be passed from the doctor's hands or other things in the delivery room.

Appoint regular VC for Music Varsity: Music Patron

C.R. Himamshu

Mysuru, Oct.19- Alleging that there is total maladministration in the functioning of Karnataka State Dr. Gangubai Hangal Music and Performing Arts University in city, Music Patron C.R. Himamshu, who is well-known for organising Music Concerts as part of Ganeshotsava at VV Mohalla 8th Cross, has urged the State Government to appoint a regular Vice-Chancellor to the Music University at the earliest.

In a press release, Himamshu said that the Acting VC Dr. Nagesh Bettakote was functioning in a dictatorial manner, taking unilateral decisions without bothering to consult others on key matters.

Accusing the acting VC of unnecessarily spending huge sums of money on unimportant programmes in total violation of rules, he said that Dr. Nagesh was ignoring academic courses and the high fees stipulated for certificate courses had disappointed all those who want to learn music at this prestigious University.

He also accused the acting VC of pushing the University to its brink, by not giving proper attention to improving admissions and also failing in making the courses more attractive.

Maintaining that the University was running without a regular VC for over one-and-a-half years, Himamshu urged the Government to save the University from further disaster by appointing a regular VC and filling up the Offices of Registrar, Finance Officer and Assistant Executive Engineer.

- In 17th Century Holland, Tulip bulbs were more valuable than gold! The flower symbolised immortality, life and love. In 1630s, a kind of frenzy for tulips occurred in Western Europe named "Tulip mania" and tulips became so expensive as to be treated as a form of currency. Tulips lifespan is very short, being 3 to 7 days.
- Gas Plant or the Burning Bush as it is sometimes called, earned its name because its leathery green leaves, flowers and seed pods give off a strong lemon scented vapour which, on a calm summer night, can be ignited with a match.
- Flowers of bamboo are rarely seen. Some species of bamboo develop flowers after 65 or 120 years. Interesting fact about flowering is that all plants of one bamboo species develop flowers at the same time, no matter where they are located in the world. Bamboo releases 30% more oxygen into the atmosphere and absorbs more carbon dioxide compared to other plants. Because of these features, bamboo greatly decreases amount of greenhouse gases in the atmosphere and cleans the air.

VOICE OF THE READER

Viveka Smaraka is inevitable

Sir,

This refers to the recent reports in media on the proposed construction of Viveka Smaraka (Swami Vivekananda Memorial Cultural Youth Centre) at NTM School premises in city.

Swami Vivekananda, who is known worldwide as a great monk, is a Mahatma who had rich knowledge of spiritualism and intellectual thoughts. It is a matter of pride that a befitting Memorial (Viveka Smaraka) is going to come up at NTM School on N.S. Road, where Swami Vivekananda stayed when he first visited Mysuru in 1892. Even the Law Courts have agreed for the Memorial at this site.

With the construction of Viveka Smaraka, the NTM School will not be shut down but it will be merged with Devaraja Government Primary School, which is located closeby. As a result, NTM School will also be saved and the Viveka Memorial too will come up at the site. As such, it is not wise to oppose the construction of the Memorial, which is fair and legal.

Kannada-speaking people must understand that Sri Ramakrishna Ashram has brought out over 400 books in Kannada and has imparted free education to thousands of poor students under its 'Viveka Shikshana' Scheme. The Ashram is functioning with a social commitment and working for the cause of common man.

Ramakrishna Ashram is an association of Saints who have sacrificed their personal lives for the cause of society. Levelling allegations against the Ashram will only amount to self-deceit and making false charges against it will certainly hurt our image and standing in society.

Taking note of all this, the Viveka Memorial must come up at NTM School premises and it is inevitable. Also the merger of NTM School with nearby Devaraja Government Primary School will benefit everyone.

Is it not wise to sacrifice one small thing for a mighty one? Let wisdom prevail upon all of us and see that the proposed Viveka Memorial comes up at NTM School premises as planned.

Manual scavenging has increased multi-fold, says former Mayor

Mysuru, Oct.19 (MTY&DM)- Former Mayor Narayana has alleged that even as the Central Government is busily engaged in Swachh Bharat and such other cleanliness campaigns, manual scavenging has increased multiple-fold.

Addressing a press meet here yesterday, Narayana said that Prime Minister Narendra Modi has declared that the country is free of open-defecation, with the construction of over 11 lakh toilets in the past five years.

Stating that even as the Prime Minister takes pride in announcing that over 75 lakh cleaning jobs have been created due to Swachh Bharat initiative, the Government had failed in ending manual scavenging, he maintained.

File photo

Quoting a Government of India survey report which said that more than one lakh people were still indulged in manual scavenging, Narayana claimed that several State Governments had submitted false affidavits to the Supreme Court stating that manual scavenging no more existed in their State.

Maintaining that the number of manual scavengers is on the rise, the former Mayor urged PM Modi to take firm steps for real eradication of manual scavenging.

Advocate R. Lakshman, R. Shiv, Parashuram and N. Lokesh were present at the press meet.

BEML workers take out rally against privatisation

Mysuru, Oct.19 (SBD&DM)- Workers of the public sector undertaking BEML, who have been staging demonstrations against privatisation moves, took out a rally in city on Friday to register their protest against the Centre's move.

The rally, which commenced from Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple at the Palace North Gate, passed through K.R. Circle, D. Devaraj Urs Road and JLB Road, to reach the Deputy Commissioner's office, where they staged a demonstration for some time.

Claiming that the public sector BEML was one of the research and development establishments in the Asian continent, the protesters maintained that thousands of workers would lose their jobs if the giant company is privatised.

Raising slogans against the Union Government, the protesters urged the Centre to drop privatisation moves.

Trade Union leaders H.Y. Munireddy, M.D. Rajashekaramurthy, B.R. Channaveerappa, Govinda Reddy, Suresh, Jagadish and others took part.

Asphalting of Ring Road to begin next month

First phase to cover 10 kms of the total 42 kms

Mysuru, Oct.19 (RK&US)- The 42-kilometre-long Ring Road laid at a cost of Rs.320 crore is now riddled with potholes and the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) has come forward to asphalt the road. In the first phase, 10 kms of the stretch from the junction near Narayana Hrudayalaya to Hinkal Flyover would be asphalted including the service roads on either side for which Rs.15 crore has been sanctioned and e-tender has been invited.

The last date to submit the tender is Nov.14 and the work order will be issued to the contractor after Nov.15. The work would begin in the third week of November and completed within a month, according to officials concerned who disclosed that a proposal with Detailed Project Report has been submitted to the NHAI Central Office in New Delhi regarding asphalting the remaining 32-km of the road.

The Ring Road project, started in 2003 and completed in 2016, enables heavy vehicles coming from Bannur, T. Narasipur, Nanjangud, H.D. Kote and Hunsur to go to Bengaluru without entering Mysuru city. The project, undertaken under the Centre's Jawaharlal Nehru National Urban Renewal Mission (JnNURM) scheme, was supported by State Government and Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA).

As it is mandatory to re-asphalt any road once in three years, the work has been taken up now necessitated by umpteen potholes on the road. Though the Ring Road was developed by MUDA, maintaining that was a problem and hence the responsibility was transferred to NHAI as the road was connecting National Highways. Only the streetlights on Ring Road are maintained jointly by MUDA and MCC as NHAI does not have funds to be sanctioned under this category.

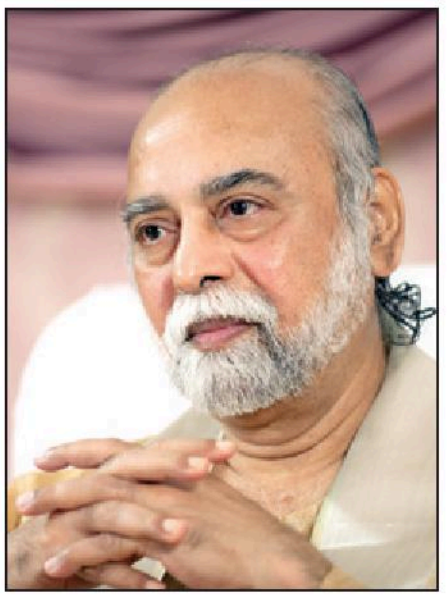
Spiritual Spinners!



The Income Tax Department conducted raids last week where it seized Rs. 43.9 crore in cash, Rs.17.5 crore in US currency, 1,271 carats of diamonds and discovered Rs. 500 crore of undisclosed income! All this not from a thieving greedy businessman but from a once LIC Clerk named Vijayakumar, who became Kalki Bhagwan !

I first heard of Kalki when I visited my aunt in Kodagu. This was in the mid 1990s when Kalki had become of a craze. Every second person I met was obsessed with Kalki. And like how all people who follow "Babas" rabidly defend and promote their Guru, my aunt too was busy peddling Kalki gyan. Be it at family functions or at the dinner table, it was Kalki all the time. My uncle on the other hand was constantly cursing Kalki saying the Godman had not only brain- washed his wife but had also dry-cleaned his wallet.

In fact, Kalki was the rising star of the "Baba world" in the 1990s largely because his devotees claimed he was the 10th avatar of God Vishnu and he spewed doomsday prophesy. Yes, Kalki had said that the world would suffer a lot after March 1998 and if people followed him he would purify them of their sins and save them from the suffering. And people lined up. No wonder, it prompted Outlook magazine to write an article about him titled "The Kalki Craze."

In fact, very early in his career as a professional Godman, Kalki was accused by many parents of "stealing" their children by brain-washing them, there were accusations of hypnosis and forced donations. As the matter was getting attention, he conveniently went into Antarmukha (isolation for introspection). Of course, he emerged later and the world was not suffering any less.

It is amazing that year after year, no matter how many Godmen are exposed, people still want to follow them. A spiritual guide is understandable but becoming obsessed about a person or movement can lead to intellectual blindness and introspective dystrophy. In fact, it is this blind obsession among Indians which has led to explosion of "Spiritual Industry."

And today Gurujis and Babas are far from the enlightened ascetic monks we imagine. Today when we say Guruji or Baba the image that pops up in one's mind is that of power, luxury, real estate, cultural extravaganzas and long beards. Long beards being the only original ascetic trait.

Today even a modest Guru suddenly develops a fetish for "prefix" or a " suffix." They are no more satisfied being a mere Guru, now they want a "Jagad," "Sadh" or a "Bhagwan" strung along. Then there are the palatial Ashrams and love for expensive vehicles.

Finally, once they become popular with enough devotees to troll the "non-believers" they think they can solve big problems that even scientists and lawyers cannot — from water crisis to land disputes. And they do this while driving fuel guzzling expensive cars that pollute and hobnobbing with politicians.

Babas, Bapus, Gurus, Yogis and Fakirs now have gotten so arrogant that they think they are no more Godmen but God themselves? Some think they are above the law and why not? When law-makers themselves prostrate before these Babas, they can be above the law.

No wonder, when six boys were shot dead in Sai Baba's residential area, a Trustee of the Ashram said, "The matter is purely internal and we do not wish to have any law enforcement agency investigating into it !" Six people died and this Trustee had the audacity to say that law enforcement should not investigate!? So, yes Godmen can be above the law. Of course, depending on which side of the political equation he is meditating on.

Now, like we ask any corporate leader, how much money is enough money? Of course, Godmen provide a spiritual service and they can charge for it. From Osho's Meditation lessons to Jaggi's Inner Engineering sessions; Be it Kalki's Oneness classes or Sri Sri's Art of Living lessons, there is always money involved but where will one stop? And when will we stop addressing them as Bhagwans? Because they are mere mortals just like us.

I have visited many Gurujis but I have never felt that they were special or would deliver me to a higher level of consciousness. At best, they have given me some interesting philosophical conundrum to mull over but most have given me answers that sounded like an engineering student's answer at his viva exam. Here is an example:

Professor: How does a processor work?

Student: Sir, the processor works according to the process. The process of the processor is the processing of the process.

When a process comes into the processor, the processor processes the process.

So, this process of processing the process is done by the processor. This is the main function of the processor.

Was the answer confusing enough? This is how Godmen take us on a spiritual spin. If you cannot convince, then confuse. And Godmen have been leaving us confused for a long time but we hang around hoping to decipher the gibberish they spew upon us thinking it is enlightenment.

For now, a spiritual guide is understandable but while bowing at their feet please let us not leave our brains there, because soon our wallets too will be left there. The truth is, in the end, everyone must deal with their own pain and suffering. All anyone can do is hold your hand while you are at it. Your loving family and friends are a better bet than any Godman. So it's better to invest your time, money and emotions on them instead of a Godman.

Life in Motion

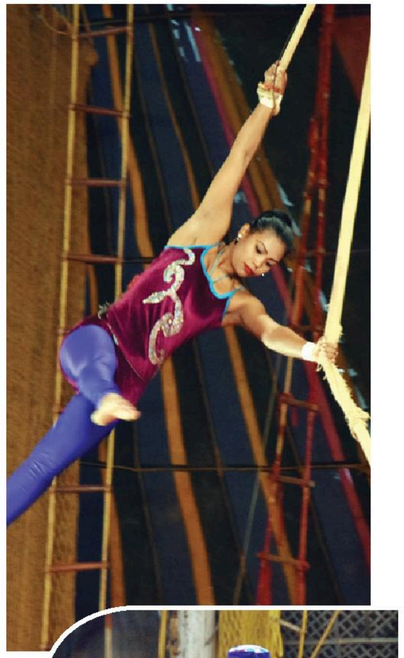
And the show goes on



By S.N. Venkatnag Sobers

Circus excites everyone irrespective of age. People throng circuses across the world to witness some of the best acrobats performed by artistes, putting their lives at a high risk. Believing in the motto 'The show must go on', artistes have been performing day in and day out, producing the best show each time.

People in Mysuru, especially during Dasara, not only wait to watch the spectacle of caparisoned elephants led by Golden Howdah carrier on Vijayadashami but also eagerly wait for Jumbo Circus, one of the oldest in India. Circus has become an integral part of Dasara and Deepavali season.

Circus in India has a history of 140 years with one Vishnupant Chatre, an equestrian, and his wife, a trapeze artiste and an animal trainer, deciding to start their own circus company 'Chatre's Great Indian Circus' on March 20, 1880. Inspired, by Chatre, India became home for many other circus companies which included Great Royal Circus, Great Rayman Circus and Amar Circus, Great Bombay Circus, Gemini Circus, Rajkamal Circus, Jumbo Circus, Rambo Circus and so on.

Life in a circus is the most difficult as the performers need to be fit and have to maintain their looks to be able to present their acts. Being away from their families and loved ones, performers are most vulnerable people whose lives have no guarantee. One wrong move and they are either maimed for life or it may prove fatal.

A joint family with love stories, emotions

Artistes in Circus are just like people in other professions who keep themselves away from home while on work. They spend most of their lives touring from one place to another round the year. Coming from the different places and geographical conditions, sometimes they find it difficult to adjust to different food and climate conditions.

Bhushan Thokarlam, a juggling artiste from Nepal, says he joined circus 15 years ago after completing this 10th standard. "It is true that we miss our families. But by thinking so won't fetch us food or money. When at circus, we consider our fellow artistes as our family. Sometimes there are differences, but not serious. We often help each other at the time of distress and have a lot of fun", reveals Bhushan.

Even circus has quite a few love stories that have blossomed and has ended up in wedlock. Like Bhushan found the love of life in Menuka, also an artiste and the couple tied the knot nine years ago. Now both perform dual acts which are quite popular.

Menuka Thokarlam is a veteran in circus business. She joined the company about 24 years back as a child artiste. She was brought by her aunt to circus to join her cousin who was already working for the company.

All the way from Tanzania to Mysuru

Not everyone appreciates artistes who perform. "Response from public is good. Especially Mysureans have been encouraging us every year. But, not all places are like Mysuru. There are cities where people have spoken ill about us but we don't get demotivated. We ignore and move on with our lives", says Menuka Thokarlam.

This year, Jumbo Circus has invited a group of artistes from Tanzania in Africa. The group is led by Antony, who is a popular artiste back in his country. There are five members in the group who perform dangerous acts using fire. They also perform gymnastics and stunts using weights. Antony's group has travelled to many countries.

"We have travelled to China, Egypt and Dubai and other countries but Mysuru has been the best. It is my third visit. People have been co-operative and appreciating," says Antony. For Antony, the toughest part is Indian food. "People eat a lot of spice but back in my country not many spices are used. So to keep my tummy in good health, we prepare our own food," he said Antony with a smiling face.

No wild animals, No Circus

Circus has always been the show of wild animals including lions, tigers and elephants. But with ban imposed on them, circus business has not been the same. Many circus companies have closed their businesses due to ban.

For an animal, circus life is miserable. Living conditions are cramped, badly maintained and lack basic comforts animals need to be happy and healthy. They don't have the opportunity to exercise, socialise or exhibit any of their natural behaviours, instead spending their lives trapped in cages, argue animal activists.

Performances are loud and stressful and animals are forced to perform tricks. Also, training regime is cruel and revolves around punishment and fear, with animals beaten and whipped regularly. Animal rights activists say that circus animals are kept in captive circus environments and most of the times they are unhealthy and suffer from injuries, exhaustion and stress. This is why animals are banned.

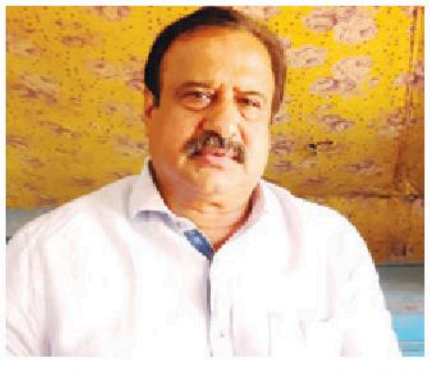
Surviving since 1977 but future is bleak



Having started on Oct.2, 1977 near Patna in Bihar, Jumbo Circus has been able to survive despite the advent of other entertainment sources. Ajay Shankar, its owner says that circus in India survived despite all odds. It still attracts people in large numbers.

"Now-a-days people are attracted to TV 'reality shows'. But, the original reality is circus where artistes perform, risking lives. Despite this, neither the Government nor organisations have recognised our contributions. While movie stars and other actors are showered with awards, circus artistes stay neglected. It is because of few companies like Jumbo Circus that these artistes are surviving", he explains.

Striving hard every day

Circus has gone through a lot of changes. Once a glorified business, now it is striving hard for survival. Ban on wild animals and child performances have made life tougher. With no new generations entering the business, companies fear that closure is imminent.

"Circus companies handed over 400 wild animals to the Government. Today, we do not even know those animals have survived as it is difficult for them survive in the wild after getting adjusted to homely atmosphere. Animal rights people must understand that circus companies have always taken care of wild animals and in no way they were ill-treated," Ajay adds.

Circus companies in India might have to face the toughest period in a couple of years as survival of the once most popular entertainment form seems bleak.

Heaps of garbage dumped in front of V.V. Mohalla Post Office since many days are not cleared. Stage set for Nationwide NRC, says Amit Shah

Detention Centre comes up at Sondekoppa in Nelamangala near Bengaluru

Detention Centre at Sondekoppa in Nelamangala.

Amit Shah

Basavaraj Bommai

New Delhi, Oct. 19 (UNI)- In an indication that the ruling BJP has started work behind the scenes for the Nationwide roll-out of National Register of Citizens (NRC), Union Home Minister Amit Shah said Detention Centres are being constructed all over the country as the Government is "preparing in advance."

"The process (of detention) will be managed by the Foreigners Tribunals (FT). The Government has its own preparations to make. There is a legal process where FTs are concerned. That process has just started," he said in an interview.

The statement comes amid reports that one Detention Centre for illegal immigrants has already been built in Karnataka, around 40 kms from Bengaluru, while land for another has been identified in Navi Mumbai, Maharashtra as well. Both are BJP-ruled States.

In Karnataka, a Detention Centre has been built in Sondekoppa in Nelamangala, around 40 kms from Bengaluru. Authorities managing the Centre claim that it is not a jail, but rather a "movement restriction centre." A large number of illegal migrants from Bangladesh are settled in Maharashtra and Karnataka and most of them even have valid documents including voter ID and Aadhaar Card.

The Detention Centre, work on which started during the JD(S)-Congress regime, is yet to be opened, and will be used to detain illegal immigrants found staying in Karnataka. "We (Government) have started the preliminary exercise to prepare the ground to introduce NRC in Karnataka by collecting necessary information (about illegal immigrants). After this, we'll discuss it with Amit Shah and take a final call in a week or two," Karnataka Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai said.

FTs are quasi-judicial bodies that determine the citizenship of a person in India. Shah has repeatedly claimed that the Modi Government would implement the NRC all over the country and "throw out infiltrators" from every inch of India, and he reiterated it during the interview, saying that it will be done before the 2024 general elections. When asked what will happen to those who are identified as illegal immigrants, he said: "A legal process will be followed. A United Nations Convention is set up, rules are there and those laws will be followed."

Mysore Derby tomorrow

Prize money of over Rs.80 lakh at stake

Mysuru, Oct.19 (VNS)- The eagerly awaited Mysore Derby-2019 (Grade I) will be held at the Mysore Race Course (MRC) tomorrow (Oct.20). The Derby has already created a buzz among the racing enthusiasts as it features some of the best horses from stud farms across the country.

This year, the Committee led by Mysore Race Club Chairman Dr. N. Nithyanand Rao, has been successful in roping Catalyst Properties and AVR Group to sponsor the Mysore Derby.

Anjan Rangaraj, Chairman and Managing Director, Catalyst Properties, who is a racing enthusiast for the past decade, told SOM that his company was involved in promoting sporting activities and said that he was very happy to be sponsoring 'Mysore Derby' for the first time.

It may be recalled that Catalyst Properties has also sponsored the Bangalore Winter Derby for two years in a row which is coined as 'Catalyst Properties Bangalore Derby.'

The other sponsor, Bengaluru-based AVR Group, is owned by Arvind Venkatesh Reddy, the Principal Owner of 'Ballari Tuskers,' a Karnataka Premier League (KPL) franchise, who is also into hospitality and entertainment businesses.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Dr. Nithyanand Rao said that MRC was all geared up to host the most awaited 'Mysore Derby - 2019' tomorrow and hoped that the rain do not play a spoilsport.

Tomorrow's Derby will be for a distance of 2,000 mts and will feature three-year-old Indian horses. Being the richest race of the Mysore Racing Calendar, the event is offering a total prize money of over Rs.80 lakh where the winner walks away with prize money of over Rs.40 lakh.

A total of seven horses will be taking part in tomorrow's Derby that will be held at 4 pm. Out of the seven horses, one is a filly (young female horse) and the rest are colts (young male horse under four years of age). This will be a competitive race with a cream of Indian Horses participating. Although there are seven runners, all eyes will be on 'Cosmic Ray,' the highest rated three-year-old filly owned by United Racing and Bloodstock Breeders Ltd., trained by S.S. Attaollahi and to be ridden by Jockey Suraj Narredu. The second favourite is 'Malwa,' a three-year-old colt, owned by Marthand Singh Mahindra and Rina Mahindra. This horse is also trained by S.S. Attaollahi and will be ridden by C.S. Jodha. There is also a chance for 'Square the Circle,' also a three-year-old colt, owned by Zahid Qureshi, Gamini Jayaratne and N. Krishnamurthy, trained by Mohd. Sajid Qureshi and ridden by A. Imran Khan. The other horses taking part include 'Alexander Burnes', 'Southern Ruler', 'Star Cavalry' and 'Streaming Gold'.

Like every year, MRC has also organised 'Free Contest of Skill' contest for guessing first three winning horses, for which it has announced Maruti Alto 800 as the first prize, four Bajaj CT 100 Bikes as second prize and 25 Titan Gift vouchers as consolation prize.

Prizes have also been announced for Best Dressed Lady and Best Dressed Gentleman.

ECI extends Electors Verification Programme up to Nov.18

Bengaluru, Oct.19 (UNI)- The Election Commission of India (ECI) issued a revised schedule extending the date of conducting Electors Verification Programme (EVP) up to Nov.18 under Special Summary Revision of Electoral Rolls 2020 with reference to Jan.1, 2020 as qualifying date.

In this connection, the Election Commission has informed the citizens of Mysuru to verify their voter details.

The EVP and other pre-revision activities, including rationalisation of polling stations, have been extended up to Nov.18.

Publication of Integrated draft electoral roll will be by Nov.25. Filling of claims and objections will begin between Nov.25 and Dec.24. Disposal of claims and objections will be completed by Jan.10, 2020. Final publication of electoral rolls will be on Jan.20.

Speaking to reporters at his office yesterday, State Chief Electoral Officer Sanjiv Kumar said that the Commission has received poor response in Karnataka for its EVP initiated in September this year. Only 37% voters have applied for electoral verification.

He urged voters to get their details verified at the earliest.

MARK YOUR CALENDAR

- Last date to conduct Electors Verification Programme (EVP) will be on Nov.18.
- Publication of Integrated draft electoral roll will be on Nov.25.
- Filling of claims and objections will begin between Nov.25 and Dec.24.
- Disposal of claims and objections will be completed by Jan.10, 2020.
- Final publication of electoral rolls will be on Jan.20.

Of a total of 5.10 crore voters registered in the State, the CEO's office has received 1.88 crore requests till yesterday. The EVP aims to remove errors in the voters' list. Voters can get all revisions done including change of address, name, spelling mistakes or any other details which need to be rectified in their identity cards.

The EVP was launched across the country on Sept.1 this year. Voters can submit their applications until Nov.18, as part of the programme.

Who should do it?

Every voter should take part in the verification programme. If a voter finds all their details accurate, they can mark it as "verified and found correct" in the portal. If not, a request to rectify the errors should be made.

How to get it done?

If voters wish to verify the details on their own, they can log on to the National Voters Service Portal (NVSP) or download the Voter Helpline app.

They can also submit their requests at the Common Service Centres or Voter Facilitation Centre at the taluk office. In addition to this, Booth-Level Officers (BLO) will also make door-to-door visits to verify and collect details of uncovered population.

While doing it online, a person can tag their family members on the portal, to ensure that all of their names are registered as part of one polling booth. The public can also call the toll free number 1950 (affixed with STD code for districts outside Bengaluru) to report any problem.

CJI Ranjan Gogoi recommends
Justice S.A. Bobde as successor

New Delhi, Oct. 19- Chief Justice of India (CJI) Ranjan Gogoi has written to the Government recommending Justice Sharad Arvind Bobde, the senior-most Judge of the Supreme Court, as his successor.

S.A. Bobde

Justice Gogoi, in his letter to Ministry of Law and Justice, recommended to the Government that it starts the process for appointing Justice S.A. Bobde as the next Chief Justice. Sworn-in as the 46th Chief Justice of India on October 3, 2018, Justice Gogoi retires on Nov.17.

Justice Bobde is number 2 in seniority after Justice Gogoi and is a former Chief Justice of the Madhya Pradesh High Court. Official sources said the Chief Justice has gone by the convention to recommend the name of the next senior Judge after him as his successor.

Justice Gogoi as the Chief Justice had a tenure of 13 months and 15 days while Justice Bobde, who will be sworn-in as CJI on Nov.18, will have a tenure of about 18 months.

According to the Memorandum of Procedure that governs the appointment of members of the higher judiciary, appointment to the office of the Chief Justice of India should be of the senior-most Judge of the Supreme Court considered fit to hold the office. Under this process, after receiving the CJI's recommendation, the Law Minister puts it before the Prime Minister who advises the President on the matter.

Tragedy strikes
holidaying family
Youth, child washed away at Triveni Sangama in Srirangapatna

Srirangapatna , Oct.19 (US)- Tragedy struck a family of 12 members who were on a three-day tour and had come in two vehicles to Triveni Sangama at Ganjam near here yesterday.

Yasin Khan Syed Mannan

While playing in the river water, Yasin Khan (25), son of Ayub Khan and a resident of Doddaballapur and his nephew Syed Mannan (4) were allegedly washed away in the strong currents.

Initially, Syed Mannan slipped and was getting washed away when Yasin Khan jumped into the river to save the child but in vain. Unfortunately, both were washed away as over 25,000 cusecs of water was contributing to the strong current.

In a desperate attempt, Yasin Khan's brother Mathin Khan, 22, too jumped into the river to save the two but could not.

On hearing the news, Police personnel and Fire Brigade rushed to the spot and pressed expert swimmers to retrieve the bodies. The body of the child was traced after traversing a distance of 5 kms near a private hydel plant. The search is on for the body of Yasin Khan.

Marriage next month

It is learnt, Yasin Khan was supposed to get married next month. The family in a celebration mood had come on a tour when the tragedy struck. Ayub Khan was inconsolable on losing his son.

Man attempts to attack Bengaluru
Congress MLA Byrathi Suresh, arrested

Bengaluru, Oct. 19- A man attempted to assault Congress leader and Bengaluru's Hebbal MLA Byrathi Suresh yesterday near his residence in Byrathi village in North Bengaluru. He escaped unhurt. A case of attempt to murder was registered in the Kothanur Police Station against the attacker, Shiva. The accused has been taken into custody.

Byrathi Suresh

Bengaluru North East DCP Bheemashankar S. Guled said, "Around 12.30 pm, a resident of Byrathi village attacked Hebbal MLA Byrathi Suresh with a knife. His gunmen and others nearby managed to overpower the attacker. The MLA is safe without any injury. We have detained the man on charges of attempt to murder at the Kothanur Police Station."

"We are investigating the background of the accused, a resident of the same village. Byrathi Suresh says he had helped build the accused's house so we are now investigating why he took this action," the DCP told reporters.

Suresh said, "There was a man who does coolie work in our area who hit our car with his vehicle around 50 metres from our house. He then went around and hit the car again. He later tried to attack with a knife but my gunman and others nearby restrained him and handed him over to the Police. I am perfectly safe. I was at some distance from him."

Suresh said that he knew the attacker as he lived close to his house and said that the man worked as a carpenter. Media reports suggested that there was a political motive behind the attack, but the Police refused to comment on the same.

"We have increased security detail on Byrathi Suresh. We are investigating the background of the accused, a resident of the same village," DCP Bheemashankar added.
